The best festival.

Sp

k3+cm Dear readers of the magazine, I visited a festival of young people's inventions startups and here is my review.

To begin with, I want to tell you about the startup that surprised me the most. It was a flying car which uses hydrogen fuel. It looks like a usual car, but has wings that can be taken off and put in the trunk. ~~There~~ There have been ~~some~~ ideas ~~about~~ of a flying car, but no one has actually ~~done~~ created it, so that makes the invention absolutely unique. Additionally, it solves the global warming problem by using hydrogen fuel. Unfortunately, in the future ~~the~~ flying cars might split up our society, because only ~~the~~ rich people will be able to afford ~~it~~ them.

Speaking of challenges, inventors had to overcome a lot of them. For example, one young man couldn't find <sup>any</sup> investors for his project, although it was very promising. I suppose that they also faced doubt from their parents and friends.

I heard different opinions from visitors of the festival. One lady said: "Our future is in good hands". Some old man was ~~for~~ frustrated: "They are just wasting money!"

In conclusion, I think such festivals are very important for young people. They give them a chance to share their startups, get some piece of advice from experts, find new investors and much more. Hope you enjoyed my review. Go visit the festival!
