Writing

ANSWER SHEET

Home, sweet home

I: Dear readers, today in our interview we have a very special guest! Jane Baker is finally back! Jane, what can you tell us about your experience living abroad? pr wo

JB: What could I say, it was quite nice. I liked it there, but still I wanted to go back home.

I: You've been gone for several years, did the changes in your hometown impress you?

JB: I must say that the changes are massive, but it's for the better. I'm happy to see that everything is better than ever before.

I: Would you mind sharing something interesting about your town from the ¹⁰⁰old times?

JB: Of course no! I remember that when I left the town there were almost no bookstores in it and you would have to take a 30-minute ride to get to the nearest one. It was a disaster for me as a writer.

I: Must have been tough for you! Speaking of, you're planning to write a children's book about your hometown, right?

JB: That is correct! I wanted to make something special for the place I grew up in, so I decided that a book about this town is the best option.

I: And one last question: when will you ¹⁰⁰start the book?

JB: I'm almost sure I will start next month.

I: That's it! Thank you so much for joining me, Jane!

JB: It's my pleasure!
