Writer Returns

Jane Baker, a famous writer, came back from abroad and announced a new story that takes place in her hometown. Gr.

We have invited her for the interview to discuss the town and reveal a few details about the book.

I. - Hello, Jane. Welcome back to our town. You have spent several years abroad. Why did you leave hometown in the first place? Gr.

JB. - I had multiple reasons. Firstly, I was looking for inspiration. Every person and place give me new ideas. Secondly, I have taken a few courses about culture and writing there. I want to improve my skills and knowledge.

I. - I see. Wasn't it scary to leave your home where you lived all your life? Gr.

JB. - It was. I have a lot of good memories about my childhood here and I was worried the new place wouldn't be as good and comforting. But my family supported me, so I decided to leave.

I. - Have you noticed any changes?

Gr. JB. - Yes, there are more houses and cars now. There are less trees, but the town is still beautiful.

I. - Why have you decided to write a book about your hometown?

JB. - I felt like there is no better place for a story for kids. I hope that children will understand why the main character is so curious and kind, living in this town.

I. - Curious? Is there some mystery in the town?

JB. - Yes, in the past people believed that fairies
